

Fearless Kitty Rescue

June 29, 2021 · 🌐

BREAKING NEWS! Over the weekend, a sweet kitty was dumped on our donation bench, stuck in a cooler, zipped up, and wrapped in a plastic garbage bag. This poor girl was sitting there likely for a few hours, but she had a savior.

At approximately 5:45am on Saturday, June 26th, a dog sniffed her out! Koda, pictured here, was on her morning walk with her mom. Koda immediately sensed there was something in the wrapped-up and abandoned cooler and ran over. Through a series of events and very caring people, this kitty was saved. The kitty, now known as "Juliane," is doing fine and has already been seen and evaluated by our wonderful partners at El Dorado Animal Hospital. She did come to us with a pre-existing medical condition. In the Danish culture, the name Juliane means "Fearless." And Fearless she is!

We can't thank Koda, her mom, and all of Juliane's heroes enough for coming to her rescue. Who knows how long she had been abandoned and how much longer she could have survived if not found by Koda. Juliane is decompressing in the FKR medical area for the time being. Despite her circumstances, Juliane is a sweetheart, and loves to purr and receive pets. FKR is actively working with law enforcement regarding this incident.

The lives of animals are so precious, and we all can band together to save them. Much like Juliane's story, "it takes a village."

If you would like to donate to FKR to assist with Juliane's needs, and the needs of the hundreds of kitties that FKR cares for and helps to place every single day, please donate here:

Juliane will be ready for adoption in the next few weeks. Be sure to watch for her on our website and social medias to track her progress. And if you are interested in adopting Juliane, please contact info@fearlesskittyrescue.org.

What an awful story! Who would do something like this??? I'm surprised kitty didn't suffocate. So cruel. At least Koda is a hero.

I understand the desperation, especially if the owner tried to find a place for Juliane. But it's unforgivable to leave the cat in a closed insulated cooler inside a black plastic trash bag. In this heat, she might not have lasted another hour. Kod... See more

Maybe get a security camera to help prevent this from happening again. That person should be prosecuted.

Maybe another store front caught footage of someone carrying kitty in garbage bag? Or neighboring stores saw the person?

I really dislike people a whole lot. Who could ever harm beautiful animals. They are so innocent

How cruel people are, like our little sweetie who was abandoned in a broken down carrier with her kitten. How could anyone do that to such innocent creatures 🐱🐱. Thanks for the woman and Koda for saving her and thank you Fearless Kitty for all the good... See more
